IHH Healthcare Invests in Telehealth Start-up to Scale Up its Digital Ecosystem

- Co-led investment in regional telehealth company Doctor Anywhere
- Offers app users an option to see a general practitioner virtually and have their medication delivered right to their doorstep

IHH Healthcare (“IHH” or the “Group”), a leading international healthcare provider, co-led a minority investment in Singapore-based telehealth company Doctor Anywhere (“DA”), as part of DA’s US$27 million Series B round to expand its platform and enter new geographies in Southeast Asia.

The investment is in line with IHH’s strategy to partner with innovative companies that deploy cutting-edge healthcare technology. The aim is to enhance the patient’s experience, treatment and clinical outcomes across its network of 77 hospitals in 10 countries.

Dr Kelvin Loh, Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer of IHH Healthcare, said, “IHH is transforming healthcare to make it as convenient as possible for our patients. As part of this journey, IHH is very pleased to partner with Doctor Anywhere. Their end-to-end digital platform enables patients to schedule and receive virtual consultations with a doctor anytime, anywhere. Prescribed medications can also be delivered right to their home. The partnership is immediately synergistic in Singapore which is one of IHH’s home markets.”

The partnership with DA will enable IHH to expand its digital ecosystem and better support clients with IHH’s full suite of healthcare services.

DA currently serves more than 1 million users. Beyond Singapore, its mobile app is also available in Thailand as well as in key Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City. In addition to teleconsultations and drug delivery, DA users can also purchase health and wellness products on its online marketplace.

Lim Wai Mun, Founder and CEO of Doctor Anywhere, said, “I am thrilled with our partnership with IHH Healthcare. IHH brings to us their outstanding track record in delivering exceptional patient care and experience. With their strong global healthcare services network and deep pool of expertise, we are confident we will complement each other to make quality healthcare more accessible to patients in the region.”
